

I don't think telemarketers have the right to bother people at home after working hours. A lot of these callers are rude, unsympathetic and downright obstinate. The rights of the PEOPLE as a whole should be worth more than someone doing a bulk calling to make money. This is the land of the free but, we are also supposed to accept and respect personal privacy. Thank you.